

KLove provides me with my preferred choice in Christian radio. I listen to it for inspiration and encouragement. It provides the community with contemporary worship music without commercials and gives valuable information re: Christian events and resources in our area. KLove is in the public interest because it is a positive alternative to the negative influences that abound in the public marketplace. It is safe for the entire family to listen to without fear of offensive language or content of lyrics. It encourages people to improve their lives and points them to God.
